

Web Development & Design

Mindshare Studios offers clients web development and design services ranging from simple static websites to full-featured Content Management Systems (ecommerce solutions). We craft all of our web projects using standards-compliant, accessible code ? delivering your message to the widest variety of users, operating systems and mobile devices possible.

We are firm believers in leveraging open source software to build sophisticated websites that will help you run your organization. Open source brings enterprise-level development to small and mid-size businesses ? our customers don't have to sacrifice features and usability even on tight budgets.

Open source means enterprise-level development for small business.

We are adept with leading-edge internet technologies and practices including JavaScript (online marketing plan).

Mindshare Studios is technology neutral.

We select the most appropriate software and technology for each project rather than trying to force every project into a specific mold. Additionally, if your project really doesn't seem like a good fit for us, we'll let you know, and help you find another company to work with.

We believe in giving our clients choice.

We provide the full source files for every product we deliver (excepting any third-party or proprietary code) and do not require any ongoing support or web hosting contracts.
